

Get On the Bus

The Jazz June

A great way of making bad impressions
And honestly i have no idea how long it will take to get your head together take to get youthoughts together
A little something more Than what you bargained for So let's share hands and drink this night to tears
We can contemplate tomorrow but for now we have this glass Those thoughts will come tomorrow but who says wedon't already gave the answers
So get on the bus
