

Body

Mother Mother

Take my eyes, take them aside
Take my face, and desecrate
My arms and legs
They get in the way And take my hands, they'll understand Take my heart, pull it apart
And take my brain, or what remains
And throw it all away
'Cos I've grown tired of this body
A cumbersome and heavy body Take my lungs, take them and run
Take my tongue, go have some fun
And take the ears, take them and disappear
Take my joints, take them for points
Take my teeth, tear through my cheeks
And take the nose go and dispose Oh would you go dispose, just go dispose
'Cos I've grown tired of this body
A cumbersome and heavy body I've grown tired of this body Fall apart without me body Take my (eyes), take them (aside)
Take my (face)
and desa (crate)
Arms and (legs)
Get in the (way)
Bodies (break) I've grown tired of this body
Cumbersome and heavy body Tired of this body
Fall apart without me body Tired of this body Cumbersome and heavy
Tired of this body
Fall apart without me Tired of this body
tired of this body
tired of this body
cumbersome and heavy body Heavy body heavy body
heavy body
