

Run Free

Rebecca Ferguson

I used to know a girl who had a dream
Her head full of ambition, her heart filled with pain
Walking the same walk, seeing the same faces
Wishing she could trade places
Maybe I could fly away, she'd say
"Even though time's moved on, I still feel the same"
And I wanna be happy, and I wanna find my way
And I wanna run free, and I wanna fly away
Every good thing comes at a price
Sometimes you just gotta melt the ice
It's not a question of when, just how
And after all this time I've found
That I wanna be happy and I wanna find my way
And I wanna run free, and I wanna fly away
I wanna be happy and I wanna find my way
And I wanna run free, and I wanna fly away
It may take time to find my feet
"You'll get there sometime", they say to me
But I wanna be happy and I just wanna find my way
And I wanna run free, and I wanna fly away
And I'm gonna be happy, and I wanna find my way
And I, I'm gonna run free, and I, I'm gonna fly away
And I'm gonna be happy, and I wanna find my way
And I, I'm gonna run free, and I, I'm gonna fly away
