

Room At the Bar (feat. Corey Smith)

Colt Ford

Look, we just rolled in, me and three of my friends,
Got on my boots and jeans, Im a redneck king.
Saw Jack and Jim and some good time shine
And any friend of yours is a friend of mine
All I want is a seat, all I need is a beak,
I live my life like a rhyme, still standing in line.
But thats alright with me, cause Im a regular Joe.
Dont wanna be a star, yo, just a part of the show.
Aint trying to be cool, wont suffer the fools,
So you guys are sure funny, you can keep your money.
Ill keep my truck, you keep your fancy car.
If youre looking for me Ill be right at the bar.
Theres plenty of room at the bar,
Plenty of room at the bar,
If you dont like the rat race, weve got the right place,
Theres plenty of room at the bar.
Cast away on the island of the misfit toys,
I spent my youth taking sh*t from all the girls and boys
Til I learned to get along with me, myself and I.
I got tough, cause good toys dont cry.
They called me a freak, now Im living up to the label,
But Im hungry as hell and I want my place at the table
So I stop into this high class joint.
Looking for some dinner, but the odds are getting thinner,
Yeah, I check in at the lobby, they say Im late.
They put my name at the bottom of the chart and said I had to wait
A dress code, whos that guy over there?
Wearing the t-shirt and jeans with all that gel in his hair.
Thats not fair, but I guess its just the way that it goes,
If you dont have reservations, then you better know the host.
Otherwise, be advised, theyll throw you out with the trash,
Back in the cold, youll be begging for scraps.
But Im not playing that game, I know a place down the street
Where they never judge a brother by the shoes on his feet,
Theres always plenty of room at the bar.
Theres plenty of room at the bar,
Plenty of room at the bar,
If you dont like the rat race, weve got the right place,
Theres plenty of room at the bar.
Theres plenty of room at the bar.
Come on in, grab a seat,
Right here were hillbilly deep, but you can tap your feet.

Now grab a drink and dont stress,
Were gonna treat you like a friend, no matter how you dress.
Dont sweat the grill, sit back and chill,
Everybody here is gonna make you feel like a star, yeah yeah
Theres plenty of room at the bar,
Plenty of room at the bar,
If you dont like the rat race, weve got the right place,
Theres plenty of room at the bar.
Theres plenty of room at the bar,
Theres plenty of room at the bar,
If you dont like the rat race, weve got the right place,
Theres plenty of room at the bar.
Theres plenty of room at the bar,
Theres plenty of room at the bar,
Theres plenty of room at the bar.
