

The Scars to Prove It

The Jazz June

Maybe you wanted to break and bend
Maybe you wanted the knot out of your chest
You've got the scars to prove it
Maybe that's all that you have left
Maybe it's all that you needed
It doesn't matter because it's all that you are gonna get Take a look at the face in the mirror
Maybe it's all that you have left
It takes time
And what you gonna find out
The things we love most are the things that we take for granted
And what you'll find and what you hear inside the purest thought
And what you might find out and see the rest is all just talk
