

Flood

Drew Fish Band

You don't know the pain you've caused
The thought keeps runnin through my head
All those lies you thought I bought I've become a stranger to my bed
Standing on the porch
Out in the pouring rain
Stuck here in this nightmare
I can't live with all the pain
I've tried to erase the memories
Of how you broke my heart
but they keep coming back to haunt me
as the flood begins to start you walk right back though that door same way that you did before before you left me here alone lying next to me in bed, but you're wishing you were gone
Standing on the porch
Out in the pouring rain
Stuck here in this nightmare
I can't live with all the pain
I've tried to erase the memories
Of how you broke my heart
but they keep coming back to haunt me
as the flood begins to start I've heard it all before wish it was in my head but I can't go one more night with you lyin' in my bed
Standing on the porch
Out in the pouring rain
Stuck here in this nightmare
I can't live with all the pain
All those lonely nights
You were right there by his side
As the waters rising Can't let it go this time
I've tried to erase the memories
Tried to mend this broken heart
but they keep coming back to haunt me
as the flood begins to start

Lyrics provided by <https://www.omusic.in/>