

Echoes Guide Me (feat. Jeff Sontag)

SirensCeol

When summer days fell to autumn nights
The flickering in our hearts was called to rise
Our souls waltzed shaded in the light
Forever was a blink before our eyes But we're the gust of western wind
That rips the earth beneath our skin
Forever feels a lifetime of goodbyes A pale voice wanders off a distant shore
A single siren shining through the storm
And I may rise to scale such treacherous heights
Your echoes guide me in the blackest nights Oh Echoes guide-When summer days fell to autumn nights
The flickering in our hearts was called to rise
Our souls waltzed shaded in the light
Forever was a blink before our eyes
And I may rise to scale such treacherous heights
Your echoes guide me in the blackest nights
