Stars (feat. Kenny Chesney) [Bonus Track]

Grace Potter

I lit a fire with the love you left behind And it burned wild and crept up the mountain side. I followed your ashes into outer space I can't look out the window I can't look at this place I can't look at the stars They make me wonder where you are Stars Up on heaven's boulevard And if I know you at all I know you've gone too far So I, I can't look at the stars All those times we looked up at the sky Looking out so far We felt like we could fly. And now I'm all alone in the dark of night The moon is shiningBut I can't see the lightAnd I can't look at the Stars They make me wonder where you are Stars Up on heaven's boulevard And if I know you at allI know you've gone too far So I, I can't look at the starsStars Stars They make me wonder where you are Stars Up on heaven's boulevard And if I know you at all I know you've gone too far So I can't look at the stars
