

Release

Grace Potter

I know that I caused this pain
I know you can't let me go
Crying in the midnight rain
Waiting on a miracle
I, I release you
Though it's hard to say the words
I, I release you
From holding onto the bridge I burned
I release you from the darkness
From the love that we swore was true
I hope that, someday, the sun will shine again
And you'll release me, too
Even if I'm in your arms
Even if you touch my skin
I could never change my heart
After being where it's been
I, I release you
Though it's hard to say the words
And I, I release you
From holding onto the bridge I burned
I release you from the darkness
From the love that we swore was true
I hope that, someday, the sun will shine again
And you'll release me, too
Oh
I could never change my heart
After being where it's been
I release you from the darkness
From the love that we swore was true
I hope that, someday, the sun will shine again
And you'll release me, too
Oh, you'll release me, too
