

Comfort Zone

Michael Sweet

I'd climb a mountain if it leads me back to you
I'd fly the galaxies if they lead me back to you
I'd sail across the sea if it leads me back to you
I'd walk eternity if it leads me back to you I thought that I had everything
That I would want and I would need
But when I open up my eyes
Before me I can see that You're my stone
You're my refuge, you're my home
I'm not alone
You always take me to the comfort zone
I'd fight a battle, take a bullet just for you
I'd fall a million times from the heavens to be with you You're my peace, my hiding place
The place to rest my head
Every moment spent with you is like rising from the dead
You're my stone
You're my refuge, you're my home
I'm not alone
You always take me to the comfort zone

Lyrics provided by <https://www.omusic.in/>