I'm thinking 'bout a Yamaha (ey)
I'm thinking 'bout a Yamaha
To get away from all the cameras
I'm over it, don't wanna fantasize
Fate is 'round the corner, right (Fate is 'round the corner right)
It hit me right between the eyes (Hit me right between the eyes)
It's funny when they switch and pick a side
Ain't nobody gotta go through what I'm going through, no
But it seems like they all know what I'm supposed to do so
Let switch bodies for a day
You could be me and I could be you
Juggle the pile of shit that's bound to come through
You can have it since it's automatic
Now switch (switch)
Tell me how it feels (feels)
To be somebody else (else)
Now switch (switch)
It wasn't what you thought it was (was)
Another story to tell Well, well
Well, well, well, well
Well, well, well, well
Well, well
Well, well, well
Well, well, well, well
Well, well
So tell me lies, tell me lies, tell me lies
You and I rather die, you and I
Entertain these other bitches and now we're not Entertain these other niggas should know that
If I give you my heart, would you hold that?
Would you put it on safe or would you fold that?
If I find out you cheating man, then just know that
I'mma kill you and I hope ain't no going back
That's what she told me, how could I blame her?
A small town girl, now she all famous (switch)
Maybe it's my fault now, ain't like I've been livin' in the dark now
I told you everything from the start
And you the one that had a change of heart
Girl, you can have it after all the damage Now switch (switch)
Tell me how it feels (feels)
To be somebody else (else)
Now switch (switch)

It wasn't what you thought it was (was)
Another story to tell Well, well
Well, well, well, well
Well, well, well, well
Well, well
Well, well, well
Well, well, well, well
Well, well I'm thinking I should speed it up
To get away from all the media
I'm human, don't you think I had enough?
My women claiming that I switched on her
Only 'cause I hit a switch on her
She wasn't really good at keeping up
