

This Way

Alex Nelson

the last time that we spoke had a bitter end we said some things we didn't mean to say but you broke down and i refused to beg two stubborn hearts just don't win in the end well if you want it to be this way then i'll just say I'm sorry for every mistake that i think i made but if there could be a way to start over with this story then i would start re-writing it today all hearts heal with time is what they say but there's nothing left of mine, you took away and i learned everything you said in the end was just a lie to get into my head but if you want it to be this way then i'll just say I'm sorry
then i would start re-writing it today [break] so if you want it to be this way then i'll just say I'm sorry
to start over with this story
then i would start re-writing it today so if you want it to be this way then i'll just say I'm sorry
