

Don't Let It Get to You

Jane Child

Don't let it get to you
Don't let it get to you Nothing I can do, now you're on your own
Better make it good on the telephone I know how to make your hair stand up
Are you hip to what it's all about Must be something you can do
To distinguish you from you Don't let it get to you
Don't let it get to you Don't let it get to you
Don't let it get to you All the puppets on the stage of life
Wearing costumes, someone's husband's wife
Wicked thoughts have been concealed from view
I'd die blushing if I only knew Must be something you can do
To distinguish you from you Don't let it get to you
Don't let it get to you Don't let it get to you
Don't let it get to you Time to testify, baby, tell the truth
Is my lifestyle so uncouth? Give me liberty or give me death
Give me reason to get myself undressed Happy ending, they're satisfied
You and I remain simply horrified Smiling pillars, holier than thou
Deviate then take their final bow
This should come as really no surprise
It's been happening right before your eyes Don't let it get to you
Don't let it get to you Don't let it get to you
Don't let it get to you Don't let it get to you
Don't let it get to you
