

Let Her Go

Jagwar Ma

I've become undone, I want my lip stitched back together
Your eyes are the window to your sister's soul, but you wont let her
I've become undone, I want my lip stitched back together
Your eyes are the window to your sister's soul, but you wont let her
And I know you don't wanna let her go
And I know you don't wanna let her go
And I know you don't wanna let her go
And I know you don't wanna let her go
So come on
Break the chain with me
I'm not one to pull the strings, to let you in forever
'Cause your eyes are the window to your sister's soul, but you wont let her
I've become undone, I want my lip stitched back together
Your eyes are the window to your sister's soul, but you wont let her
So come on
Break the chain with me
And I know you don't wanna let her go
And I know you don't wanna let her go
And I know you don't wanna let her go
And I know you don't wanna let her go
And I know you don't wanna let her go
And I know you don't wanna let her go
And I know you don't wanna let her go
And I know you don't wanna let her go now
And I know you don't wanna let her go now
And I know you don't wanna let her go
And I know you don't wanna let her go
And I know you don't wanna let her go
