

Cassadee Pope

Say you will
And then you don't
Another promise that you broke
What makes you think this is a joke, oh
I let you in, you shut me out
You lift me up to pull me down
You say what's up with her
If you ever wonder...
This is why my best friend hates you
You kiss me like you don't even want to
You get me crying every day
With all the twisted things you say
This is why my best friend
This is why my best friend hates you
You, you
You, you, you
The late night calls
She's had enough
She's heard it all
She's over us
Take a seat and be torn up, oh
She says that I should break the chains
The ones that you have locked on me
I'm starting to believe her
How can you still wonder
This is why my best friend hates you
You kiss me like you don't even want to
You get me crying every day
With all the twisted things you say
This is why my best friend
This is why my best friend hates you
Hates you, hates you
Baby she can't stand you
Liar, schemer, can't believe I ever loved you
This is why my best friend hates you
You kiss me like you don't even want to
You get me crying every day
With all the twisted things you say
This is why my best friend
This is why my best friend hates you
Oh oh oh oh
