

Betrayed

Avenged Sevenfold

Passion in my eyes, I lived it everyday but how could you go throw it all away?
In my dreams it's me and you, it's there I saw it all come true As time went by faith in you grew, so one thing's left for me to do I feel it burn inside, burn in me like the rising sun Lifted into the sky, took away the only thing I loved
I know after tonight all your power crumbles in my arms
So don't worry, I'll be fine, when my life ends I'll leave this scar
And I felt down I need you there Every note and every word seems so hard to take Finally, we're destined A smoking gun in hand, now don't you realize what you've done Put a bullet in his back, your hero since you were so young How could you kill the man who brought salvation through your pain
He must mean everything to end it all this shameful way Passion in my eyes, I lived it everyday but how could you go throw it all away? In my dreams it's me and you, it's there I saw it all come true
As time went by faith in you grew, so one thing's left for me to do I started here so young and helped you get along Just did it for the love, and people healed through us Don't live your life in vain, don't take it out on me You're cracked, so just remember, I'm not your enemy
I don't deserve to fall this way, by a man who felt betrayed
I felt so down now you're around to rescue me Every note and every word I'm listening, yeah Sometimes problems seem too deep to take (too hard to take)
Sometimes I cry thinking my future looks so bleak Finally, together we were destined I know what's best for us in the end Someone hear me, someone stop me someone listen, why aren't you listening?
Passion in my eyes, I lived it everyday
but how could you go throw it all away?
In my dreams it's me and you
it's there I saw it all come true
As time went by faith in you grew so one thing's left for me to do
In my dreams it's me and you
it's there I saw it all come true
As time went by faith in you grew so one thing's left to finish you (hahaha)
