

Room To Breathe

You Me At Six

I feel a little lost in this world.
I try a little noise and choke.
I've honestly never felt this alone.
Oh, I just need someone. I need a little room to breathe.
You're making this tough on me when all I need is to be set free.
I need a little time to think.
And if you ever will love me,
When all I need is a little room to breathe.
I've been through and seen a lot,
You've got the bottom and the top.
We're on borrowed time, but time isn't enough.
I'm just trying to be the best me I can be,
When I fall down it's me and the ground.
I am no king, I have no throne. I need a little room to breathe.
You're making this tough on me when all I need is to be set free.
I need a little time to think.
And if you ever will love me,
When all I need is a little room to breathe.
I need a little room to breathe.
You're making this tough on me when all I need is to be set free.
I need a little time to think.
And if you ever will love me,
When all I need is a little room to breathe.
