As I Lay Dying

What is this world, what is it we've created in the burdens of this life, I cannot rest this world means nothing everything we hold will pass away with a void of completion comfort will ever fade i long for this wind to cease everything we hold will pass away (2x) i long for this wind to cease we once held undying devotion; dead to our thoughts, undefined like our love everything we hold will pass away (2x)
