

Dream Girl (feat. Tyra B)

D-Mac

(Chorus: Tyra B)

I can be the one that you run to
And baby there is nothing I wont do
Let me love you better, than anybody ever could
I wanna be your dream come true
Always keep it tight just for you
And dinner every time that you come through
Let me love you better, than anybody ever could
I wanna be your dream come true

(Verse 1: D-Mac)

I thought my ex was a keeper but really she was a cheater
Cant believe that I believed her when she lied to me
Took her back when she cried to me, was a sucker for tears
But that would change through the years
And i admit it, us splitting caused me to treat women different
Cause I don't think any are any different
So why is it? I'm feeling
A change of heart sort of like the show?
Even though I dealt with false alarms in life before
Somehow I know
That you aint nothing like that chick I had in senior high
Or in college when my life was slowly breezing by
I daydream about you no joking
Running with arms open to you in slow motion, yeah
Be like Alicia and Usher I call you my boo
Aint put a ring on it yet but yeah Im trying to You fine, one of a kind a dime times two
Too bad I gotta close my eyes to find you, my dream girl

(Chorus: Tyra B)

I can be the one that you run to
And baby there is nothing I wont do
Let me love you better, than anybody ever could
I wanna be your dream come true
Always keep it tight just for you
And dinner every time that you come through
Let me love you better, than anybody ever could
I wanna be your dream come true(Verse 2: D-Mac)

My dream girl like J.Hud or Beyonce
The one I'd give a ring and everyday love her fiance'
Eventually, get married if its meant to be
Man I'm hell bent to see if you were heaven sent to me
After a long day aint nothing like a cooked meal

Before bed you show me how that good good feel
Make me wings on NFL sunday
Random dates and you the one that pay, I like that
Buying lingerie a lot to keep it sexy for me
Throughout the day I check my phone & see you text you love me
And you aint, wasting your time playing games with them lames
Near or far you hold me down the same
And when it rains you don't complain you stand next to me
Thats loyalty baby the perfect recipe
Especially cuz you believe that when the sun shines we'll shine too
Too bad I gotta close my eyes to find you .. my dream girl(Chorus: Tyra B)
I can be the one that you run to
And baby there is nothing I wont do
Let me love you better, than anybody ever could
I wanna be your dream come true
Always keep it tight just for you
And dinner every time that you come through
Let me love you better, than anybody ever could
I wanna be your dream come true(Verse 3: D-Mac)Country girl cooking, island girl sex
City girl swagger, damn girl you the best
And god blessed that bottom poking up out of that dress
Love how your nails never look like no one else
You say that hair is all yours? let me see for myself
Run my fingers through it, before we get into it
When Im out often from the different shit I'm doing
You Skype and Twerk for me, just like the strippers do it
All i need is commitment and submitting
A woman who's independent and promise an honest friendship
No deception for any feeling protection
Tell the truth about your wrongs we'll work it out and correct it
And choose your friends wisely..no bad influences
Justifying things when you shouldn't be doing shit
Keep me in your heart and on your mind too
Too bad I gotta close my eyes to find you.. my dream girl(Chorus: Tyra B)
I can be the one that you run to
And baby there is nothing I wont do
Let me love you better, than anybody ever could
I wanna be your dream come true
Always keep it tight just for you
And dinner every time that you come through
Let me love you better, than anybody ever could
I wanna be your dream come true
