

The Moon Is Falling Down

Crywolf

[Charity Lane]
And I know
That your hands are reaching out for what's to come
Close your eyes
All the waves are coming, crashing all around
Save me, save me
For the audience is gone
And the earth around is shaking
And the moon is falling down
You, you're falling all around me
And the thunder and the lightning consume
You, you're falling all around me
Painting pictures, bleeding colors in the room
