Rixton

Whole

Whole

Whole

Whole When you wake up and you find that I'm not there, cry for me.

Put on your make-up and just let down your hair, don't lose sleep.

I know you said we're fine but I'm not sold.

You try to take two halves and make them whole And make them whole.

And make them whole.

And make them whole

And make them whole.

And make them whole

And make them whole

And make them whole

And make them whole, oh When I wake up and I reach across the bed, you're not there.

Tried to save us but no one ever said love was fair

I know you said we're fine but I'm not sold.

You try to take two halves and make them whole And make them whole.

And make them whole.

And make them whole

And make them whole.

I know you say you're fine, but I'm not here to say goodbye,

I'm sick of wasting all this time when we both know, yeah

Life can move so fast, I know we run in different paths

But can we try to take two halves and make them whole? And make them whole.

And make them whole

And make them whole.
