

First Choice

Oddisee

On a start always, always go with your first choice, hey
With your first voice, say
Ain't the mind sight, blind by the thirst to make it work
Sometimes you gotta lay it in the dirt to let it shine
Let 'em know, let 'em know Forget road, one that's chose
At least I drove, nothing's easy, what's a freebie, all is sold
We've been reaping in the fold
And the creass is where I stole
Nothing see me, see my lows
Only highs I'm meant to show
Like all I meant to be is all??? being close to be exposed
Can't have that so god just secrets
Bear the weakness to your folds
Catch you slipping on your slow
Your positions and they scope
Take a hit and keep on taking quick decisions, bleed the globe
Freeze or go, no, don't even know the answer
Follow reasons see the gold
This ain't rocket science, just have heart and mind and be the both Overthinking overboard, sulk to sinking close to shore
Could have made it fear, feel your sings to forward former pause
On accord the king accords the queen, accords that he ain't lost
My hindsight is stronger, believe that and be back at dawn
Without the help or warning your mornings repeat like a loss
You know the answer, quit dancing around and get just for priming
On a start always, always go with your first choice, hey
With your first voice, say
Ain't the mind sight, blind by the thirst to make it work
Sometimes you gotta lay it in the dirt to let it shine
Let 'em know, let 'em know I feeling more than ever you know
Being never the day you inevitable
Spreading the lead but never to know
Who better than me to tell me to go
But the best is yet to come
Well I regret this after run??? I don't know but I'm cool with that Foolish perhaps to choose this or that
Enough in that all
For this could while that collapsing
I stand on still can I fit the force
So I make a move like
Pushing sort of rude like
I'm that sort of dude who wants it all approved

But it ain't a view like
Yo, running in circles and waiting in lines
Jumping in hurdles we make in our minds
I might just go with the flow and I hope when it's over
I'm over, I made it their time
Go in the moment, the open they closing the road
And roses of war before the battle was held
Neglected to tell, wait for the second I reckon I feel
On a start always, always go with your first choice, hey
With your first voice, say
Ain't the mind sight, blind by the thirst to make it work
Sometimes you gotta lay it in the dirt to let it shine
Let 'em know, let 'em know
