

The Veil

Doyle Bramhall II

I remember the day of the reckoning
Oh, she said nothing was wrong
She fooled me and she broke me
All she gave me was blame
And the silence I overcame You didn't share no love
But did you really want love I never seen her kind
Taking love into the ground
She hurt me, she shamed me
Always keeping me down
You make a man live so small Like a little rag doll
You can bet she'll take it all
Evil
Always behind the veil
Nobody knows how far you'll go
Evil
Don't you follow your mama baby
Evil better look away Emancipating my soul
Lord I let I go in alone
You know
My gratitude for grace
Ain't gonna waste another moment Evil
I soldier there is falling down
Why did you send him to the front line?
Evil
Don't have to be fighting baby
The open door is
Evil
you know I got the fix
Ecclesiastes 7-2-6
Evil baby
Under the veil
Evil turn it away
