

Flying South

Tony Sly

If I could sleep tonight then we wouldn't have to fight
About nothing going right so tell me what to do
Should I write you a song about two minutes long?
Not enough time to explain may be enough for you
You see that I am flying south for the winter once again
I feel like I am bailing out on my only friend
Aside from all the things we do to make each other blue
Can you forgive me again?
I am the one to blame
You've been there all the time
I'm a missing person sign
But I hope that we can find all that we have misplaced
You see that I am flying south for the winter once again
I feel like I am bailing out on my only friend
I am like the wind in your sinking sailboat
Stuck at the dock without you
If I could sleep tonight then we wouldn't have to fight
About nothing going right so tell me what to do
Please tell me what to do
