

Hope

Lisa Heller

We set out for the lonely
Before the break of dawn
The city lights were blinking but everyone was gone Nothing to live or die for but we still risk it all and bet it on the future without a crystal ball Hope, hope for the best hope for the rest of our life
till the day that we die
no, never confess
bury regrets in the sand
while we reach for the sky
My father used to tell me
That nothing good is free
But maybe that's the difference Between my old man and me Not something you can pay for Not something you can buy It's only in the moments that make you feel alive
till the day that we die
bury regrets in the sand
while we reach for the sky
(Hope, hope, hope,
hope, hope hope)
We'll never see the ending Until it's much too late They'll read about our history and celebrate the date
hope for the rest of our life till the day that we die
no, never confess
while we reach for the sky (hope, hope) Holding on to hope (hope, hope) I'll be holding on to...
Hope, hope for the best,
till the day that we die...
