

Release (feat. Tneek)

Lurine Cato

Living in a world of joy, living in a world of peace
Living in a world of love has finally taken over me ( oohh)
How I love the way when you comfort me, never thought it would be So incredible now I see. How I should be treated yeah, a woman who was weeping.
I know I'm not forsaken, now that I've been cured and set free, I have received my release. You took me out of, you saved me from my, you captured me
Now I am release
When I had nothing, you gave me something my life has changed
Now I am release
Would you ever believe my true story, right from birth I was fighting for my own sanity.
Now I'm glad to say I'm living life today, no matter what comes my way through it all I pray.
Show me what I'm needing yeah, a woman who was weeping
I know I'm not forsaken, now that I've been cured and set free, I have received my release. You took me out of, you saved me from my, you captured me
Now I am release
When I had nothing, you gave me something my life has changed
Now I am release(Rap)
I'm released from the pain, yea my freedom I gained.
There I was sitting in struggle with my life in the rain,
Negative relationships, heart beat like hammer,
Now I'm ripping out the nails, pure truth and no glamour.
I've broken down my soul ties,
Giving up all of me like brothers were the Most High.
Despite the badness, the wild swagger living, He forgave me, repentance; Released like a prisoner; without the sentence. Show me what I'm needing yeah, a woman who was weeping
I know I'm not forsaken, now that I've been cured and set free, I have received my release.
