

Everything I Am

Lowkey

[CHOURS]

Everything I am, and everything I want to be
I put it in your hands, you could open up to me
Everything I am, and everything I want to be
I put it in your hands, you could open up to me
Oh dont we ever get beyond this wall[VERSE 1]I am no rolemodel I am not Mr.Perfect
Been bitten a couple of times and I did deserve it
Everyday livin and learnin through these written verses
My life is a sacrifice, I wonder is it worth it?
People can change, Im living physical proof
Im not important, or special or different from you
To other people, I may seem like a good advisor
But to myself I feel like a dirty womanizer
I am just a man, I will never be a celebrity
That is a mantra that I will cling to the death of me
Dont wanna feed my kids the very treachery they fed to me
Preferbly the aim is equality eventually
Dont relegate me below, or elevate me above to you
Needless to say, In either place Im uncomfortable
I treat you as an equal, Im simply a man
Your brother in humanity is everything that I am[CHOURS]
Everything I am, and everything I want to be
I put it in your hands, you could open up to me
Everything I am, and everything I want to be
I put it in your hands, you could open up to me
Oh dont we ever get beyond this wall
[VERSE 2]Listen close to the words that was sang in the chours
There's a big difference between fans and supporters
Never asked to be scrutinized or consumerized
Or treated differently to anyother human life
Most dont, but some do and It saddens me
Force fed celebrity to subdue our humanity
See the false image depicted and think It's purity
When beneth that image they hold more insecurities
Than you do, but sometimes It's hard to see who's who
There's more to life than twitter followers and youtube views
And if I came across like I was cocky I am sorry
You were born an original so please dont die a copy
Dont relegate me below, or elevate me above to you
Needless to say, In either place Im uncomfortable
I treat you as an equal, Im simply a man
Your brother in humanity is everything that I am

[CHOURS]

Everything I am, and everything I want to be
I put it in your hands, you could open up to me
Everything I am, and everything I want to be
I put it in your hands, you could open up to me
Oh dont we ever get beyond this wall

Lyrics provided by <https://www.omusic.in/>