

The Other Side

Lauren Alaina

He said, I see my mama,
She looks about 23
She's running my way with the angels
Right next to Jesus
Yeah, his eyes lit up,
Staring at the living room ceiling
And with his last few breaths,
He said "I wish you could see it"
Don't you cry for me
'Cause I'm in God's glory
And I can see his face,
It's amazing
I know you have doubts
But I see it right now
I promise it's real,
Keep praying
I'll be waiting,
Take your time
And go write a story
That you can't wait to tell me
On the other side
Oh, oh, on the other side, oh, oh
I said, someday I'm gonna get married
Better find a way to be up in the rafters
When I have you a grandbaby
I got somebody good to name 'em after
There's gonna be a lot of sadness
On a lot of happy days
I'll try to think of this moment
And this place and hear you say
Don't you cry for me
'Cause I'm in God's glory
And I can see his face,
It's amazing
I know you have doubts
But I see it right now
I promise it's real,
Keep praying
I'll be waiting,
Take your time
And go write a story
That you can't wait to tell me
On the other side
On the other side
All my pain,

I get to leave it
It's time for me
To get my healing So, don't you cry for me
'Cause I'm in God's glory
And I can see his face,
It's amazing
I know you have doubts
But I see it right now
I promise it's real,
Keep praying
I'll be waiting,
Take your time
And go write a story
That you can't wait to tell me
On the other side
Oh, oh, on the other side
