

After All These Years

Brian Johnson

After the pride
After the fall
The hands of mercy opened wide
After the rain
After the flood
You set Your promise in the sky
The God who was and is to come
Has been the same for me
After all these years
You've never given up
After all these years
You're constant with Your love
It amazes me
After all You've done
It amazes me
You're still running after us
After the Cross
After the shame
No power of hell could ever take
Your perfect life
Your gift of grace
That testifies beyond the grave
Still testifies beyond the grave
After all these years
You've never given up
After all these years
You're constant with Your love
It amazes me
After all You've done
It amazes me
You're still running after us
The God who was and is to come
Has been the same for me
The God who was, and is to come
Has been the same for me
You've always been the same for me
After all these years
You've never given up
After all these years
You're constant with Your love
It amazes me
After all You've done
It amazes me
You're still running after us
It amazes me
After all You've done
It amazes me
After all these years ...
