

OVERRATED

Helmet

Today's another day
You won't deny that
It came so slow you don't remember
When you got so fat Up above the bathroom mirror
The light'll make you weak but
It's that pacifying lie that grows
Now every week And still you hate it, it's overrated
I'll never forget things like,
"Who did what?"
Cover old ground and drag
What's useless up
I won't feel guilty about being late again
There's no one to answer to and
No one to hate...
