

Love Letters to God

Nahko And Medicine For The People

Give

Always give what you can
Even if your allies draw lines in the sand
And dig, always dig a little deeper
Sometimes it's hard to be my brother's keeper
LoveSo you let love in
Baby I am home in the wake of your skin
And it's crazy
How we wear our ceremony
Always be open to your path and your journey

Yes

She cradles my loneliness
A home in a forest nest
Universal test, feel the weight of my love put your hand on my chest
And rest
In the cradle of my arms
The battle that we face is a place where our scars come from
And to pick up that gun
My love we are destined to teach these ones to be brave
And never run away
Courage is birthed from the womb on the first light of day
Yeah, the day you were born you came out perfect never meant to be torn
In silence

Never been so loud in the violence
Never been so proud of a people
When we're fighting for a change
Not afraid to lose it all despite all the rage

We are animals

And we cannot be caged

Provoke us to fight

So we burn a little sage and write poetry

Wiser than the enemy will ever be

The minority

And authority

Are you here to protect or arrest me?

I can't tolerate the hate, and I'm losing sleep

Can't breathe because they're choking out a war in me

Immorality

Love letters to God

I wonder if she reads them or if they get lost

In the stars, the stars, in the stars

So many parts to a heavy heart

If there's no beginning, then where would you start?
Start, start, where would you start?
Human souls
So we carve 'em into story Totem poles
Because we're always searching for a certain goal
A pattern of physics, a role
Don't believe all you're told
And open
Open up your fist
A misconception
You can fight like this
In praise
With the power of prayer
If God's on our side we can take the stairs
To the heavens
Flipping through my chapter seven
I live with the snakes in the great deception
No court in this country for men
Who steal from their mother on paper with pen
And we're tripping
Down a red dirt road
And we're asking
Is this the way we should go?
Kissing, soft top feet of my goddess
We walk the earth, baby yeah we got this
Focus, and it's redirected
Grateful, and I'm resurrected
Stubborn, But I know the way
You're the skin of my drum
To your rhythm I will sway
Take my hand
I won't lead you astray
We will not go gently into the darkest of days
Grandma's here, and she says persevere
Take a walk in her mocks sees a trail of tears
And our fears, are the same as they ever were
Beers numb the pain of our holocaust years
Always mobbing and motion
Maybe, baby be an island over an ocean
Your arches, how they bend and contract in my conscience
Never slipped through the grip of my thesis
And my theory is I shine in your presence
A deliverance
Love letters to God
Wonder if she reads them or if they get lost
In the stars, the stars, in the stars
So many parts to a heavy heart
If there's no beginning, then where would you start?

Start, start, where would you start?
