Addition

Ataxia

Well that is what we cry
Feelings we keep inside
And you are not in the right
And you've no reason to hide
It's that we must collide
Nothing can overwrite
And you are not on my side

And we will never arriveBe quiet at times to learn

That's /Life's about to take a turn

And I am fixing to burn

From which I'll not return

A little bit of love

From somebody above

Life is addition in any way

There's no such time now as today, today

Saw you walking back from a nightmare

Won't change what you're to do, well I don't care

I grew up there and I wasn't scared

I am from there, I was born thereForgive me if I cry

Look when you lifted the sky

Everybody emptied their slime

Those memories stole my sideAnd will you sit by my side,

If me not live past tonight?

Life isn't here and so streaming

What was the feeling to stream again, stream again? I am becoming a voyeur

I am a small man, I told ya

I don't miss coming at all

Saw you walking back from a nightmare

Won't change what you're to do, well I don't care

I grew up there and I wasn't scared

I am from there, I was born thereWell that is what we cry

Feelings we keep inside

And you are not in the right

And you've no reason to hide

That's when we must collide

Nothing can overwrite

And you are not by my side

And we will not arriveSaw you walking back from a nightmare

Won't change what you're to do, well I don't care

I grew up there and I wasn't scared

I was born there. I am from there
