

Heart It Races (Cover Version)

Dr. Dog

And were slow to acknowledge the knots in our laces
Heart it races.

And we go back to where we moved out, to the places
Heart it races. I bought it in a can. Stirred it with my fingers. Singing

Oom dada oom dadadada

Threw it out the window Lately you been tan, suspicious for the winter. Thinking

Oom dada oom dadada

Life's like little splinters

Life's like little splinters And we're slow to acknowledge the knots in our laces.

Heart it races.

And we go back to where we moved out, to the places.

Heart it races. I sold it to a man, and threw him out that window.

He went, oom dada oom dadada

Made his wife a widow

Heart it races alone

Heart it races alone

Heart it races alone

Heart it races alone

Heart it races alone

Heart it races alone

Heart it races alone

Heart it races alone

Heart it races alone

Heart it races alone

Heart it races alone

Heart it races alone

Heart it races alone

Heart it races alone

Heart it races alone
