

You Are My Home (feat. Brendan McCreary)

Bear McCreary

Just another day we never forget
Life takes a turn that we don't expect
One journey ends, another is set
And I have found you are my home One day we're lost, another we're found
So hard to know which way's up or down
Somehow we land, feet back on the ground
And I have found you are my home Another day is done
Another setting sun
We have come home So take my hand, their playing our song
All that we have will never be gone
One thing I know, though we travel on
Is I have found you are my home
One thing I know though we travel on
Is I have found you are my home
