

No Right Thing

Blood Orange

You won't hear my name I can't watch you throw it all away.
You are playing games, i'm done trying to help you run down, escape. But you look away, and I look to you... that's where we are, and what we saw was you, on your own, and i'm on my own, and we were wrong, there's no right thing i've been, you've been my everything, and i've seen your worst bb, this is what it comes to knowing we're broken. I've been changing my whole scene, to be somebody different, this is where we got to, knowing that you're the wrong thing. But you look away, and I look to you... that's where we are, and what we saw was you, on your own, and i'm on my own, and we were wrong, there's no right thing You can't see me, when you're pushing me away.
I'm the one who sees you, i'm the one who needs you.
