

War

LINKIN PARK

There's no peace, only war, victory decides who's wrong or right.

It will not cease, only grow you better be prepared to fight.

And it will not apologize for laying down your life. War! There's no pain it will spare fear has become your only right.

And once you're lost in your despair forever black eternal night.

And it will not apologize for laying down your life. War, destroyer!

War, destroyer! It needs no side to justify laying down your life!

War, destroyer!

War!
