

The Duke

Lamb of God

No one lives forever but you can't escape from life
Every day could be your last so consider your demise
    Mine has drawn so near
    Stare into the eyes of the end
    Reaping now without fear
    The time that's left to spend
    The time that's left to
SpendThe time that's left toLook up in the night
    See right across the sky
    Hanging there above far away were soul depart
I am the smoke you'll know it burning in your eyes
    Cast aside an empty shell
    But I will never die
This world has grown too small, I can't stay much longer
My body begins to fail as my spirit grows stronger
    It's time for me to go
    The circle closed as the snake eats its tail
    Lay my burden down
    Walking free beyond the veil
    The time that's left to spend
    The time that's left toLook up in the night
    See right across the sky
    Hanging there above far away were soul depart
I am the smoke you'll know it burning in your eyes
    Cast aside an empty shell
    But I will never dieI will never die
    I will never die
    I will never die
    Look up in the night
    See right across the sky
    Hanging there above far away were soul depart
I am the smoke you'll know it burning in your eyes
    Cast aside an empty shell
    But I will never dieI will never die
    Never die
    I will never die
