

Comfortable (feat. X Ambassadors)

The Knocks

All I see is you and me, dancing in each other's company
Honestly I won't believe
Dancing in each other's, dancing in each other's company Triple hit it right, baby get back to the city
You shoot your lover, you belong in their world
Is only temporary but it feels like forever
Let your hair swing down to the back of your knees
You're in a heart shape, rotate, grip like a tropical torn Still texting your answers, making perfectly sure we're alone
And now the car's parked, backseats, he may know how to make the rhythms
You're so self-assured when you're working the loop
All I see is you and me, dancing in each other's company
You're so comfortable with me
Honestly I won't believe
Dancing in each other's, dancing in each other's company
All I see is you and me, dancing in each other's company
You're so comfortable with me
Honestly I won't believe
Dancing in each other's, dancing in each other's
Dancing in each other's company
You're so comfortable with me Now shift your head, break your back, take up all the attention
I've got my hair cut short, cut straight to the issue
It's comin up, it's comin up, all my shameful intentions on a row
Taking hold of me
Give me, give me, give me strength to continue
Can I get a little space, space?
If I only knew all I know, all I know
Will I know you?
All I see is you and me, dancing in each other's company
You're so comfortable with me
Honestly I won't believe
Dancing in each other's, dancing in each other's company
All I see is you and me, dancing in each other's company
You're so comfortable with me
Honestly I won't believe
Dancing in each other's, dancing in each other's
Dancing in each other's company
You're so comfortable with me
You're so comfortable with me
You're so comfortable with me
