

November

Doyle Bramhall II

Oh, I wish I could go back again
For a moment and ease this
Unforgiving pain
So many tears, sometimes
I just can't breathe
But those days, I know,
Are gone for good I remember
When we used to laugh together
Playing songs that would move us
Till the sun broke out
Take me back
And November came
With a bittersweet melody
It opened up my heart
And showed me how to start
To love again I wish I could've seen
Past the lies I told myself
And I let you know
How much you mean to me So please, don't go
Before hearing me say
Always remember
When we'd laugh and sing together
Old songs that could move us
When nothing else could
Take me back
Oh, November came
With a bittersweet melody
Well, you opened up my heart
And showed me how to start
To love again
Love again
Take me back Oh Lord, can you hear me
(No, your love was not in vain)
Oh Lord, can you feel me
(No, your love was not in vain)
No, your love was not in vain
No, your love was not in vain) I can hear you sing
With a smile in your eyes
If you want to keep it
Gotta give it away
On and on and ever after, love
Give it away Always remember

When we used to sing together
Playing music all night
Till the sun came up
Take me back, yeah Oh, November came
With a bittersweet melody, yeah
Oh, you opened up my heart
And showed me how to start
To love again
Love again
Take me back Oh, Lord can you hear me
(No, your love was not in vain)
Oh, Lord can you feel me
(No, your love was not in vain)
No, your love was not in vain
