

Keep Singing

Rick Astley

When I was a boy
I saw my daddy crying at the steering wheel
And oh, it made me feel so scared
Then there was joy
Found my religion, swimming in a chour of voices
And oh, I knew that I'd been spared That I'd be saved some sunny day
Saved from throwing my life away
That I'd be saved some sunny day
From throwing my life, throwing my life away Keep singing, woah, keep singing
Praising to the heavens with my voice ringing
Keep singing, woah, keep singing
Clap to the beat 'till my hands are stinging
And I'd be saved some sunny day
From throwing my life (throwing my life)
Throwing my life (throwing my life) away
And now I understand
I'm a wide eyed father, blessed are the children
Oh our greatest reward
And with these hands
I'll move a mountain, build a castle to keep you safe
Of this, you know you can be sure And you'll be saved some sunny day
Saved from throwing your life away
And you'll be saved some sunny day
From throwing your life, throwing your life away Keep singing, woah, keep singing
Praising to the heavens with your voices ringing
Keep singing, woah, keep singing
Clap to the beat 'till your hands are stinging
And you'll be saved some sunny day
From throwing your life (throwing your life)
Throwing your life (throwing your life) away
Who do you love
When it all comes down to truth
Who do you love
When it all comes back to you
Who do you love
When you're lying in your bed
Who do you love
Who do you love Keep singing, woah, keep singing, pray
Keep singing, woah, keep singing, pray
Keep singing, woah, keep singing, pray
Keep singing, woah, keep singing, pray And you'll be saved some sunny day
From throwing your life (throwing your life),

Throwing your life (throwing your life) away

Lyrics provided by <https://www.omusic.in/>