

Ole Fishlips Is Dead Now

Chiodos

Away with the fishes floating like the stars across the sky.
This mirror is feeding me lies.
I looked so beautiful but just as desperate.
A victim with a plague with rage reaching to the sky.
I'm chewing on my teeth and staring into a black hole.
Let go of your demons
She's in love, she's in love, she's in love with herself.
And I never should have trusted someone else with my insides.
Goodbye never feels complete, there's always one word missing.
I want to forget you.
You've broken everything I love, took all my light and turned it into dusk.
I regret all I gave you.
You've broken everything I love and I can't wait to be myself again.
I feel the separation, I feel it deep inside my bones.
I know you're sharing beds with strangers in sharp corners.
Goodbye never feels complete, there's always one word missing.
I want to forget you.
You've broken everything I love, took all my light and turned it into dusk.
I regret all I gave you.
You've broken everything I love and I can't wait to be myself again.
Manipulate, play with my insides.
Twist around and...
Take what you want, Take what you want from me.
This is love. I want to forget you.
You've broken everything I love, took all my light and turned it into dusk.
I regret all I gave you.
You've broken everything I love and I can't wait to be myself again.
This is love.
