

Lindsay Quit Lollygagging (Acoustic Version)

Chiodos

I bite my tongue another perfect time
I'd do anything to make her happy,
Even if it means my being miserable as long as she's loving life I will be able to sleep at night, with a smile upon her face (2x) The thought of her smile and not being there
My inner feelings would be shattered
A piece of glass punctured in my heart I'm bleeding from the inside I will be able to sleep at night, with a smile upon her face (2x) As long as she's perfectly fine (2x)
And someday she will be mine
I will be able to sleep at night
With a smile upon her face
As long as she's perfectly fine
I hope she's perfectly fine
And someday she will be mine
