

The Mirror of the Signs

Bush

You could say all love breaks you
Every kiss who you are
If I could tell you what I've been thinking
Maybe we could get along
See yourself through the mirror of the signs
It's alright to lose your mind in a world of paradise
Yesterday before your eyes
All the lives you leave behind
You can't run from what's inside you
And what don't kill will set you free
All those days I felt my rage
But I found the strength to be me, yeah
See yourself through the mirror of the signs
It's alright to lose your mind in a world of paradise
Yesterday before your eyes
All the lives you leave behind in a world of paradise
Don't fake, don't fake anyone
Don't lie, don't lie till you're done
Dive in, dive into everything
You could say that all love could break you
And every kiss is who you are, yeah
See yourself through the mirror of the signs
It's alright to lose your mind in a world of paradise
Yesterday before your eyes
All the lives you leave behind in a world of paradise, yeah
Watch it fade in the shadow of the sun
Each new day the last is done
