

Cul De Sac (Stripped)

Phangs

wake up, look at you think about everything we have been through where we started, where we moved and in between i don't think i could thank you enough to show you how i'm feeling so in love with you, you know i mean it no matter what comes through you know i'll stay beside you i remember when i saw you cross the cul de sac you looked back, i think i had a heart attack just a kid
who could've know that you would be the one for me
can't believe the time could fly so fast every breath from you was my soundtrack all along, started in a cul de sac still now, it's me and you it's been a while but everything it feels now where's the time i swear it flew you didn't ask but oh here's the truth since this begun, can't imagine this with anyone but you, you know i mean it
every breath from you was my soundtrack
started in the cul de sac
started in the cul de sac i remember when i saw you cross the cul de sac
every breath from you was my soundtrack
i remember when i saw you cross the cul de sac

every breath from you was my soundtrack
