

Beg Steal & Borrow

Satellites

There's a duplicate world
One for the likes of you and your kind
The other has laws morals and fear
It's cold in here
Under skies painted gold impurities raining on down
Cover the puddles with clothes off our backs
Seal the cracks
From tomorrow I'm changing the model I am no.1, no. 1
Live by your moral
To beg, steal and borrow and be nonchalant, nonchalant
There's a lesson to learn
You can live by the sword when it's not your own
Everything's easy with nothing to fear you're in the clear
From tomorrow I'm changing the model I am no. 1, no. 1
Live by your moral
To beg, steal and borrow and be nonchalant, nonchalant
