Michael Sweet

I'm gonna find me a big truck
And drink a beer from a bottle Buy a house down in Nashville and some boots that I can model I'll get a five gallon black hat
And a big belt buckle
A shotgun and gun rack
And some scars on my knuckles I'm gonna write a country song and it won't be long 'til I'm on the radio
And when it goes to number one Gonna fake the fun like a clown in a rodeo I'm gonna buy me an old farm and sell the house in the city Turn on my Southern charm
And if it's fake, ain't it a pity?
I'll talk with an accent and play guitar with an old twang Spray on some chaps scent and get the bucks for my big bang I'm gonna write a country song
and it won't be long 'til I'm on the radio
And when it goes to number one
Gonna fake the fun like a clown in a rodeo
Radio
Radio
