

Waves

Bayonne

And I know there's something else, something else, something else
And I know
That you'd be there for me Now that you're somewhere else, somewhere else, somewhere else I might find less reason to be I hear it now And now that I'm by myself, by myself, by myself
You would see
That I'm healing my needs
And you reach that someone else, someone else, someone else
You can throw this under your feet I see it now
And I know there's
something else, something else, something else
And you'd rather
not hear it from me
I see it now
And I know there's
something else, something else, something else
And you'd rather
not hear it from me
I see it now

Lyrics provided by <https://www.omusic.in/>