Avail

Tell me why you think Of the days before When life was routine Which reality broke These people are the same You have changed don't face forward and Turn around Just watch Where you point that gun or you May lay flat on teh ground Right back Where you started Strive better you now Tell me why you learn From your mistakes Can you awaken On the right side and choose A strong foundation Where you learn it all again
