

Blue Condition

Cream

Don't take the wrong direction passing through
Instead of deep reflection of what's true,
For it's a combination of judgements made by you
That cause a deep dejection all the way through.No relaxation, no conversation, no variation
In a very dark blue, blue condition.Early rising every day,
You must be enterprising in your way,
For you will hear no laughter, nor see the sun;
Life would be one disaster all the way through.
No relaxation, no conversation, no variation
In a very dark blue, blue condition.Don't take the wrong direction passing through
Instead of deep reflection of what's true,
For it's a combination of judgements made by you
That cause a deep dejection all the way through.
No relaxation, no conversation, no variation
In a very dark blue, blue condition.No relaxation, no conversation, no variation
In a very dark blue, blue condition.
