

Progenies of the Great Apocalypse

Dimmu Borgir

The battle raged on and on
Fueled by the venom of hatred for man
Consistently without the eyes to see
For those who revel in sewer equally
We, the prosperity of the future seal
Cloaked by the thunders of the north wind
Born to capture the essence of
The traits of our kind
Zero tolerance must be issued forth
Behind the enemy's line
So it shall be written
And so it shall be done
Zero tolerance must be issued forth
Behind the enemy's line
So it shall be written
And so it shall be done
The battle raged on and on
Fueled by the venom of hatred for man
Consistently, without the eyes to see
For those who revel in sewer equally
We, the prosperity of the future seal
Cloaked by the thunders of the north wind
Born to capture the essence of
The traits of our kind
Discover and conceive the secret wealth
And pass it unto your breed
Becoming your own congregation
Measure the sovereignty of it's invigoration
We, who not deny the animal of our nature
We, who yearn to preserve our liberation
We, who face darkness in our hearts with a solemn fire
We, who aspire to the truth and pursue it's strength
Are we not the undisputed progeny of warfare
Fearing all the mediocrity that they possess?
Should we not hunt the bastards down with our might Reinforce and claim the throne that is rightfully ours?
Consider the God we could be without the grace
Once and for all
Diminish the sub principle that leaves toxic trace
Once and for all
